Personal

Mrs. Root, wife of the Secretary of State, has as her guest Mrs. Edward Wales, of New York.

Miss Helen Taft, daughter of the Secretary of War, who has spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents, will return to her school at Bryn Mawr tomorrow evening.

Former Representative and Mrs. Henry Kirk Porter will become permanent winter residents of Washington, as they have purchased the home of the late Lucius Tuckerman, 1801 I street, which has been conspicuous as the residence of one of the most prominent old Washington families for many years.

A large number of the season's debutantes will blossom out into society the first week in December, functions having been arranged in their honor for every day.

Miss Margaretta Symons, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Thomas W. Symons, of Lafayette Square, will receive with her mother on her Mondays in December beginning tomorrow.

Mrs. Alexander Fitzhugh Magruder was to have presented her daughter, Miss Isabelle Magruder, one of the most attractive of the buds of this year, tomorrow afternoon and evening at a tea and dance, but owing to Miss Magruder's illness, the invitations have been recalled.

Miss Barry, daughter of Mrs. Thomas H. Barry, will receive with her mother, Tuesdays in December and January, beginning this week.

Mrs. Aulick Palmer and Miss Palmer will entertain at tea in the Alibi Club Tuesday afternoon to present Miss Katherine Clabaugh, the debutante daughter of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the District and Mrs. H. M. Clabaugh.

Miss Helen Hatfield, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Hatfield, of Fort Myer, will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by Mrs. Humphrey, wife of General Humphrey, U. S. A., on Tuesday.

Mrs. Tanner, wife of Captain Tanner, U. S. N., has cards out for a tea Wednesday, December 5, at which she will introduce her daughter, Miss Ruth Tanner, to Washington society. Cards were also enclosed for a dance for the same evening for the debutantes and the younger men of the dancing contingent in society. Saturday Mrs. Tanner will entertain at luncheon in honor of her daughter, at which the guests will be the older girls, principally the debutantes of a season ago.

Miss Lillian Stone will entertain a number of the season's debutantes at luncheon Wednesday, though she is not one of the buds this winter.

Mrs. Arthur B. Ryan, prominent among the Southern colony in Washington society, will be hostess at tea Thursday, when she will introduce her daughter, Miss Louise Ryan, to Washington society.

Mrs. Gheen, wife of Rear Admiral Gheen, retired, will present her daughter, Miss Florence Gheen, to society at an afternoon tea Thursday, in their new home in New Hampshire avenue. Miss Gheen promises to be one of the most popular girls of the service in Washington society this year.

Miss Frances Goldsborough, the attractive daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edmund K. Goldsborough, will make her debut Thursday afternoon in her parents' old home, in K street, at tea.

Mrs. Robert Isaac Fleming will present her daughter, Miss India Bell Fleming, at tea Friday afternoon. Mrs. Hennen Jennings will introduce her daughter, Miss Katherine Jennings, at tea in their home in Connecticut avenue. Miss Helen Hatfield, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Hatfield, of Fort Myer, will make her initial bow to Washington society, and Miss Joanna Schroeder, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Seaton Schroeder, will also be presented at tea.

Mrs. Jewett will entertain on Thursday the particular friends of her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Jewett, at luncheon, in her handsome home at Connecticut avenue and S street.

Saturday, Mrs. Harrison Howell Dodge will present her daughter, Miss Mary Eleanor Vernon Dodge, better known to her intimates as Miss Mollie Dodge, at tea in the Washington Club.

Last, but not by any means least, of the week's entertainments, will be the large dinner at Chevy Chase Club Saturday night, when Miss Wilson, daughter of William James Wilson, will present her younger sister, Miss Helen Wilson.

Mrs. Crosby, widow of Rear Admiral Pelce Crosby, and her daughters, the Misses Jean and Miriam Crosby, are again at their home, 1715 Connecticut avenue, after two years in Europe. Mrs. Crosby and her daughters will entertain at a tea December 7.

Mrs. Grinnell, widow of William M. Grinnell, of New York, is visiting her parents, Gen. and Mrs. O. H. Ernst, in their home in Connecticut avenue. Mrs. Grinnell leaves Washington tomorrow, and Tuesday will sail for Europe, where she will spend the winter with her two small children and her husband's parents.

Tuesday and Wednesday the Women's Alliance of All Souls' Church, assisted by the Twentieth Century Club, will hold a Christmas sale in the Davidge house, corner Seventeenth street. The affair will be under the direction of Mrs. C. E. Grunsky, and the committee from the Twentieth Century Club is composed of the following: The president, Mrs. Henry Gannett; Mrs.

Thomas Sidwell, Mrs. Arthur Ramsay, Miss Grace Willis, Mrs. Frederick McKean, and Mrs. Claude E. Clifton.

Commander and Mrs. John M. Elliott and family, who left Washington some time ago for San Francisco, will sail from there Wednesday for the Philippines on the transport Logan.

The annual exhibition and sale of the work of the inmates of the Convict of the Good Shepherd will be held Thursday afternoon at Rauscher's. Mrs. White, president of the board of lady managers, will be in charge of entertainment, assisted by the Baroness Hauschmuller, wife of the Austrian Ambassador, and Mrs. McKenna, wife of Justice McKenna, of the Supreme Court.

Mrs. George Howard, who will preside in the tea room, will be assisted by Miss de Silhou, Mrs. Corcoran Thom, and several other prominent young women.

The Misses Cullen and Mrs. Sam Hill will be in charge of the ice cream booth, and Mrs. Perry Johnson, Mrs. Theodore Mosher, and Miss Whelan will have charge of the Good Shepherd table, with its display of fine needlework.

Miss Marie Barnes, whose marriage to Lieutenant Brooke will take place Wednesday, December 12, will be a much entertained young woman this week.

Almost every day of the week preceding the wedding the bride party will be entertained. Miss Hester Shepard's tea, December 7, at 5 o'clock, for the bridesmaids preceding the luncheon which Mrs. Bradley will give on Saturday, December 8. On the evening of December 8 the entire bride party will be guests at a dinner given by Mrs. Hendey, and on the following Monday Miss Chase will give a large tea, guests being asked to meet Miss Barnes. Monday evening Miss Conrad will entertain Miss Barnes and the maids and men of the bride party at a theater party, chaperoned by Mrs. Richard Harlow.

December 11 will be pre-empted by the bride-elect for her luncheon for her attendants, and Lieutenant Brooke will give his bachelor supper on the same evening.

Miss Amelia B. Berger, of Berkeley Station, Norfolk, Va., is spending a few weeks as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Sousa, in their home, in G street.

Miss Berger accompanied Miss Dora Sousa upon her return to Washington, after having spent some time as the guest of Miss Berger's parents, in Berkeley.

Senator and Mrs. Chauncey M. Depew arrived in Washington last night and joined the Senator's niece, Miss Anna Depew Paulding, who has been in Washington since about November 20, to open the family residence.

Mr. and Mrs. William Phelps Elm, who have been spending the fall in their country place in Saugus, Conn., will arrive in Washington and open their residence in N street next Sunday.

An interesting event of last week was the celebration Wednesday of the first anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Gore, and the christening of their infant daughter. The Rev. Dr. Wallace Radcliffe performed the christening service, the little girl, in compliance of her maternal grandmother, receiving the name of Fanny Lerner Gore. Mrs. Gore wore her wedding gown, a becoming creation of white satin and lace. The christening robe, of white, was exquisite in handsome and dainty lace, the garment being the handiwork of Mrs. Edward Graves and Miss Gore, aunts of the little girl.

Among those who witnessed the service were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Porter Stone, Col. and Mrs. John Tweedale, Commander and Mrs. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Graves, Miss Gore, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Lerner, the Misses Lerner, John B. Lerner, Mrs. M. S. Lyman, and Miss Cox.

Through the courtesy of Colonel Hatfield an exhibition drill and cavalry band concert will be given at Fort Myer Wednesday, December 19, at 2:30 o'clock, for the benefit of the Army Relief Society. The object of this society is to assist widows and orphans of officers and soldiers, to provide means for education and to secure suitable employment. Mrs. George M. Sternberg is president of Branch No. 2, which is located in this city.

A Jewelry Christmas--The R. Harris & Co. Store Aglow With Ideas

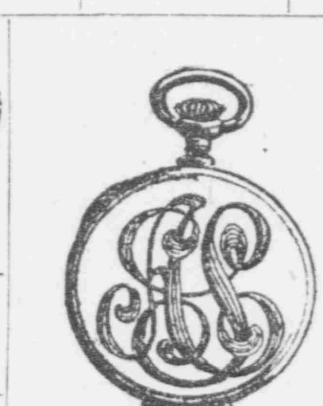

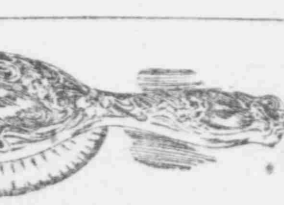

There is still space left in the R. Harris & Co. vaults for Christmas Gifts to be laid aside until desired—but tomorrow that space will be less. Hundreds of shoppers have already done all their Christmas buying—they know that special orders, engraving, designing placed early will receive special attention.

This will be a jewelry Christmas. A lady calls to buy ONE little gift and finds, to her delight and surprise, that in the great varied R. Harris & Co. stock she can get something for almost everybody she desires to remember. Only by visiting our store can you understand what a range of choice we offer; how dainty is the design of even the smallest thing we sell.

And the people who "would like to send many presents, but cannot think of anything to give," we welcome them. Our establishment is aglow with ideas, and before you know it you are keenly enjoying every minute you spend with us.

"But how about prices?" you may ask. Do not let them bother you. Most of our stock is made on the premises. The rest we buy direct of manufacturers. All our diamonds are imported direct from Amsterdam. We have nothing to do with middlemen. Hence we combine high-grade jewelry—every piece of it guaranteed—with the most attractive prices.

A taste for what is elegant and sumptuous may be gratified at small expense. No wonder that more buyers than ever select jewelry for Yuletide gifts.
